TO INOUIRE INTO SHAW'S RIDE

BLUE GIRL DEFEATED IN GREAT FILLY STAKES.

W. C. Whitney Asks the Stewards to Investigate Leonora Loring First by a Nose, With Sir Dixon's Daughter Second -Century Stakes for Water-Record-Breaking Time,

William C. Whitney has requested the stewards of the Coney Island Jockey Club to investigate the ride of Jockey William Shaw on Blue Girl in the Great Filly Stakes run at Sheepshead Bay yesterday afternoon. The stewards will not take the matter up officially until to-morrow, but it would not surprise turfmen if they should decide to set Shaw down for some time to come. It was because of the so-called obstinacy of Jockey Turner that Mr. Whitnev's $50,000 colt Nasturtium was perhaps prevented from winning the rich Futurity. It will be remembered that Mr Whitney conducted an informal investigation of Turner's conduct by seeking in-formation from Starter Fitzgerald and Steward J G. Follansbee, eand it will be also be recalled that many turf followers were surprised when they learned that Mr. Whitney in the face of some hard facts, de-cided to et the matter drop and to allow Turner to escape even without a repri-With this in view and with what happened in yesterday's big race in mind, is not at all strange that Mr. Whitney, his patience exhausted, has decided to resort to a method of procedure that may involve serious results. Many of those who saw the Futurity and the Great Filly Stakes run are unanimous in the belief that Mr. Whitney was deprived of valuable turf laurels because of jockeyship, either stupid or inexcusably careless.

Shaw's ride on the crack filly, Blue Girl, was pronounced by hundreds of experts to be the acme of incompetency. While Blue Girl was beaten only by a head by L. M. Myers's Leonora Loring for the bulk of the prize money, it was the consensus of opinion that Blue Girl, with any kind of good handling, would have been able to win easily. In explaining his action in applying to the stewards for an investigation, Mr. Whitney said to THE SUN re-

"I have asked the stewards to investigate Shaw's ride on my filly, Blue Girl, because I think the boy's performance was not what it should have been. In fact, it was about as poor a performance as I have ever seen. Shaw received no instructions to hold a position in the race, but was merely told to use his best judgment. If he did use his best judgment, it was anything but good, to say the least. From what I saw of the race, Shaw, after getting under way well, took Blue Girl in behind the bunch and stayed there until the beginning of the stretch was reached. Then he had a clear track ahead of him, but failed to put up a vigorous finish. In fact, I thought his finish was very weak. In my estimation Blue Girl should have won with ease and that's why I want to have the race investi-Shaw had the mount on Blue Girl because he was engaged by Mr. Madden two weeks ago for this event, and before I had purchased Mr. Madden's interest in the filly. That was the reason Turner did not ride instead of Shaw. Turner would have had the mount on my other filly, Rose of May, instead of Bullman, but he could not make the weight."

Mr. Madden also expressed the opinion that Shaw's ride was either a piece of gross carelessness or bad judgment. Down in the betting ring there were several ugly rumors, one of which was that in certain poolrooms Blue Girl, or rather the Whitney stable, was "laid against" extensively. try just now. perpetrated.
The Great Filly Stakes, distance three-The Great Filly Stakes, distance three-quarters of a mile down the new Futurity, course, was worth $28,705, of which $24,905 went to the winner. As Yankee's share of the Futurity was $36,910, it can be seen readily what Mr. Whitney has lost within a week. But the winning of money prizes is a secondary consideration with Mr. s week. But the winning of money prizes is a secondary-consideration with Mr. Whitney. He wants to win because of the sport to be enjoyed and the vast army of racegoers believe that he should win and that he is entitled to the squarest treatment. In yesterday's big race Mr. Whitney had Blue Girl, Gunfire and Rose of May, who Blue Girl, Gunfire and Rose of May, who were combined favorites. They opened at 4 to 5, but the public money came pouring into the ring so rapidly that the post price was 3 to 5 and out. Lux Casta, who ran second to Yankee in the Futurity, was second choice at 5 to 1, while Leonora Loring was third in favor at 7 to 1. The others were at all sorts of prices, the field consisting of twelve starters. Blue Girl cartied top weight, 124 pounds. When they paraded past the stand 20,000 spectators looked on and nearly all of them expected looked on and nearly all of them expected to see the Whitney colors, "light blue and brown cap," finish in the van.

This was a strange proceeding, inasmuch as the Sir Dixon filly had plain sailing in front of her Behind a bunch, however. Shaw kept Mr. Whitney's champion and to those who saw the jockey when he got to the bend in the track it seemed as if he was sitting perfectly still. Blue Girl was well in the ruck then and the onlookers were dazed Leonora Loring, who, by the way, had an unbeaten record up to were dazed Leonora Loring, who, by the way, had an unbeaten record up to last Thursday, when Clarence H. Mackay's Heno took her measure in the Dash Stakes, was leading the procession all the way down to the bend and she was travelling down to the bend and she was travelling so swiftly, yet so easily, that Odom did not exert himself at all, except to keep the filly straight and true. Josepha and Lax Casta, who had tried to keep pace with Leonora Loring for the first quarter of a mile, fell back out of it and their places were taken by Hatasoo, 20 to 1, and Sun Shower 60 to 1. Leonora Loring had a length the best of these two youngsters at the last furlong pole.

There it was that Blue Girl, getting into a position where she was unobstructed.

There it was that Blue Cirl, getting into a position where she was unobstructed, began to move after the vanguard in lively fashfon. Shaw, however, did not seem to be riding with his usual skill, and the crowd began to yell in dismay. Blue Girl, however, was so fleet of foot that she killed off Hatasco in a few jumps and then got even with Sun Shower. Leonora Loring, holding the rail, still had a lead of a length, and Odom, intently warching Beauchamps on Sun Shower, was not urging his mount. holding the rail, still had a lead of a length, and Odom, intently watching Beauchamp on Sun Shower, was not urging his mount at all, when suddenly he caught sight of Bhe Girl within a haif a length of him. Shaw was now riding with his hands, but with no whip as usual, and Blue Girl was gaining with every leap. Odom out Leonora Loring loose and the finish between the two was a hair-raiser. Many thought that Blue Girl had won, but the judges decided that Leonora Loring was the winner by a short head, or a nose. Sun Shower was third a length back, being a head in front of Par Excellence, Flora Pomona, Gunfire and Rose of May, heads apart in front of Par Excellence, Flora Pomona, Gunfree and Rose of May, heads apart in the order named. The Century Stakes of $19,000 for three-year-olds and upward at a mile and a half was a meritorious triumph for J. B. Haggin's great three-year-old colt, Watercolor. For the thrid time within a week Watercolor broke a record. This time he travelled the distance in 2:32, which is a record for the course, beating 2:33 made by Firenzi, with 117 pounds on June 26, 1890. The best time on record in this country is 2:30½ made by Goodrich, a three-year-old, with 102 pounds, at Washington Park, Chicago, in 1898. In this race there was a heavy plunge on Frank Farrell's Blues, a full brother to Blue Girl, but he failed to reward the loyalty of the talent. Blues was ridden by Shaw, and went to the post an even-money favorite, having opened at 6 to 5. As there was also a heavy play on Terminus which reduced his price from tens to sixes, Watercolor, who opened at 8 to 5, receded to twos. Just why the wise men allowed the handsome Watercress colt to get away from them will never be known, but they were pretty well disheartened when they saw Watercolor leave the barrier at a great gait which kept him in front all the way. Blues gave chase for a half a mile and then fell back in favor of Rockton, 8 to 1. Turner rode the latter vigorously, but he could not get up on even terms with Mr. Haggin's great colt. Spencer let out a few links in the stretch and Watercolor drew away, winning easily by three lengths. Rockton, Terminus and Blues finished heads apart as named. Watercolor's fractional

Franceso, 7 to 2 favorite to win the second race, a highweight handicap for all ages at three-quarters of a mile, was left at the post, the excuse being that the colt wheeled after the flag fell. There was another big upset as Lady Uncas, 20 to 1. led all the way and won in a drive by a length from the Messrs. Keene's Unmasked, well supported at 6 to 1, the latter beating Cervera, 50 to 1, a head. The winner's time, 1.13 2-5, was a second slower than the track record held by Waltzer and Voter. The handicap steepiechase over the full course, which was the fifth event, went to Thomas Hitchcock Jr's Bullingdon, second choice. Orman, when he looked to have a chance to win, fell at the last jump on the back stretch, his rider, Barry, receiving a severe shaking up. Zinziber was second, five lengths back and five lengths before Sir Hubert, the 2 to 1 favorite. Intrusive, a lukewarm 6 to 5 favorite, with Shaw up, won the last race at a mile and a sixteenth on turf, by a length. PLAY IN POLO CHAMPIONSHIP Lakewood Defeats Myopia by 23 Goals to 4 at Brookline. BOSTON, Sept. 7.-Lakewood defeated Myopia in the first of the championship polo matches at the Brookline Country Club to-day, by the score of 23 to 4. The visitors simply outclassed their opponents in every particular. Foxhall P. Keene and the Waterbury brothers played superb individual polo as well as doing their share toward team work. The Lakewood team got into the game with a rush and made the first goal inside of twenty seconds. Law rence Waterbury got the ball on the throwin and had an open field taking just three strokes to put it between the uprights. The Myopia men were almost taken off their feet but when play began again they settled down to hard work.

For a long time play ranged from one territory to the other. In one of the mix-ups Lawrence Waterbury was thrown just below the judges' stand, due to the soft turf. He was uninjured and continued to play. Keene started a run down the field and was well placed for a shot for goal, but Wheeler stopped him with a clever backhander. Norman had a splendid opportunity to score for his team, but missed and the ball went behind. For the next few minutes play was in the centre of the field, until J. M. Waterbury made a good drive for goal and would have been successful had the ball not struck Wheeler's pony. He scored a little later, however, making the second goal for Lakewood in 10 minutes 32 seconds. The next goal was almost as easy for Lakewood and was made by J M. Wa terbury.

With the score 3 goals to 0 in their favor. the Lakewood players began the next period in a promising manner, and in less than five minutes scored two more goals. The first was made by Keene and the second by L. Waterbury. In playing the latter there was some clever work by Reene, who brought the ball before the uprights who brought the score by hitting and made an attempt to score by hitting under his pony. The ball missed count-ing by a few feet. By hard work and ex-cellent judgment. Agassiz was enabled cellent judgment Agassiz was enabled to score three goals in quick succession for Myopia. Norman got the ball out of a scrimmage and passed it to Agassiz, who made the first taily. Then Agassiz got a fine start for a run, which was followed up by Shaw and Norman. Keene stopped the latter's shot by a good backhander, which sent the ball well down the field. The Myopia team began to show good form at this point and kept the ball well down in Lakewood's territory, Agassiz scoring again.

but missed his second shot, which was followed up by Agassiz. The latter finally hit under his pony for the third goal, in the quick time of twenty-one seconds. The last telly in this period was made by J. M. Waterbury. In the third and fourth periods Lakewood played a remarkably fast game and scored almost at will. Within a few minutes after play began in the third period Myopia scored a goal, which was their last one, while Lakewood added 16 more to their total. The line-up

Brooklyns Take Two Games From Chicages and Quakers Check the Pitte-burgs -- Bostons Beat Cincinnatis Twice -American League Results-Notes

The triumphant march of the Pittsburgs was checked yesterday when the Philadel-phias gave the leaders an illustration of the difference between stacking up against a strong and a weak team. The terrific slug-ging the Pirates did against the New Yorks vanished into thin air in Philadelphia and the Quakers won handily. The Brooklyns twice Quakers won handily. The Brooklyns twice took the Chicagos into camp, the victories being needed, for the Champions have the hardest sort of a row to hoe to catch the teams shead of them. The St. Louis team, which is doing poorly on this trip, fell victims to the New Yorks, which was the surprise of the day. The Bostons won a doubleheader from the Cincinnatis. The two strongest teams in the American League came together and the Chicagos beat their Boston rivals. Washington beat Milwaukee. Philadelphia was too much for Cleveland and Baltimore lost to Detroit. The National League results and standing follow: New York, 5: St. Louis, 2.

NEW YORK, 5: ST. LOUIS, 2. Excellent pitching by Taylor and good stick work by the New Yorks won a game for them at the Polo Grounds yesterday after-noon. Manager Donovan depended upon Powell to win the game, but he did not prove himself to be the man and was hit at will by the New Yorks. On the other hand, Taylor had recovered from the wildness with he was affected early in the week and had the hard-hitting St. Louis men at his mercy at all stages He struck out the mighty Burkett twice in succession. Errors by Strang and Murphy saved St. Louis from a whitewash. The score

BROOKLYN, 3. CHICAGO, 6.—FIRST GAME.

Having in mind a double defeat which they administered one rare day last June to the Brooklyns, the Chicagos went against the Champions yesterday with the hope of repeating the performance. They were soon indeceived. They were outplayed and beaten in both stames, having but little chance to win at any stage of the proceedings as the Champions were their masters in all the essentials of the game. Donovan was on edge in the first game and held the Remnants down to two singles and no runs. Hughes pitchd a strong game also but his support was not as clean as Donovan's. Only six of the Chicagos reached first base, only one reached second hase and not one negutated three-fourths of the entire trip. Doyle started the Brooklyns on their way to their first run by fumbling Recler's bouncer. Keeler moved up on Sheckard's out at first base and scooted home when Dolan planted a single in centre. The only other inning in which the Champions could do anything with Hughes was the fifth. Donovan singled and Keeler put him on third with a short two-bagger. Donovan came home on Sheckard's fly to Hartzell and Keeler projected himself to the rubber when Hickey node a high throw to first of Kelley's roller. The score:

The second game was much more interesting because of much harder hitting. Four double plays, an occasional error and more orportunities for base running added to its warrety. The Brooklyne was no sensity and would have ann by a still wider margin if they had taken advantage of opportunities with more determination. COLUMBIA SAILS OFF NEWPORT.

Flags Hauled Bown on Constitution NEWPORT, Sept. 7.-The big sloop Constitution, which was built in the hope that she would be selected to defend the America's Cup against the Shamrock, was this morning placed out of commission, and the work of stripping her will begin at once. There were no ceremonies con-nected with the striking of the colors. Mr. W. B. Duncan, Jr., Capt. Rhodes and THE SUN correspondent went on board at 10 o'clock. Mr. Duncan instructed the captain to haul down the flags. Capt. Rhodes passed the word to "Stand by your colors" and the quartermasters sprang for their posts as if they were simply to make colors rather than haul the flags down for the last time than haul the flags down for the last time At the command "Haul down" the club burgee and the ensign were soon on deck and the Constitution was out of commission.

There were about a dozen of the crew on the yacht and it could be seen that they on the yacht and it could be seen that they felt their position keenly. During the morning, half of the crew of the yacht were paid off, many of them being the Deer Islanders. Before leaving for their homes to-night the men said that it was not their fault that the boat was not selected, and all were loud in their paise of Mr. Duncan and Capt. Rhodes. They are confident that in proper form the Constitution can beat the Columbia nine out of ten races. The Constitution will be towed to New London in a few days where she will be hauled out and her sails and gear stowed ashore. Just what day she will leave is not yet known, but it will be early in the coming week.

leave is not yet known, but it will be early in the coming week.

While matters were at a standstill on the Constitution, on board the Cup defender Columbia all was life and bustle. In the morning riggers from Bristol were engaged on the rigging and during the morning some light sails were brought down from Herreshoff's, including the balloon jib topsail which was torn in the last race off this port.

In the afternoon Mr. Morgan went to Bristol on the steamer Park City and the Columbia went outside for a sail. She carried one of her sails of 1899, which fitted badly. She set a working topsail, as it MEADOW BROOK CLUB'S GOOD RUN. Imported Hounds Show Up Well in a Seven-Mile Hunt.

HEMPETEAD, Sept. 7.- The cool September morning enticed enthusiastic huntsmen from their couches this morning and a emart run of some seven miles across the south country was held by the Meadow Brook Hunt Club. A drag was laid at an early hour and at 6 o'clock about a half score left the clubhouse. The hounds. some sixteen couples, including those recently imported by M. F. H. Raiph N Ellis were thrown in at Uniondale and owing to the heavy dew and the freshness of the scent gave tongue loudly and started at a killing pace, but after several miles they settled down to a steedy run in good form and were well bunched throughout the entire run.

The run led southerly through several large farms to the estate of Joshua Barnum, where, after a circuitous course, the finish was made. There were no fails and alwas made. There were no falls and although the horses, owing to the warm weather, were badly used up the run was voted a great success. The new hounds worked perfectly and are considered the best that have been imported in some years. Among those out to enjoy the sport were Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., George W. Pendleton of Boston, L. W. Brokaw, Mederick Okie, George Emory, R. J. Stevenson, Warner T. Baltazzi, Thomas Hitchcock and Whips Joseph Murphy and Peter Hannon. A number of green launters were taken over the of green hunters were taken over the numps by grooms who are preparing them for the season, which promises to be one of the most eventful in the his-tory of the club.

Will Lawson Break Up Borsima?

A meeting of the great trotters, George H. Ketcham's Cresceus, Thomas W. Lawson's Boralma and Dave Cabill's Charlie Herr, had been arranged for the Readville. Mass., track on Sept. 19. Yesterday Mr. Ketcham received a telegram from Secretary Jewett of the Readville Driving Park Association stating that Lawson would under no circumstances let Boralma meet Cresceus at Readville. Jewett added that he would give $20,000 for a race between tresceus and The Abbot for Sept. 19. no entrance fee, and the purse to be divided as Ketcham and Geers might decide. In reply Jewett received the following telegram:

TOWN'S BEATS GAUDAUR.

Australian Wins Sculling Championship of the World at Rat Portage.

Toronto, Ont., Sept 7.—George Towns, it also champion sculler, who is also champion of England, defeated Jake Gaudaur to-day at Rat Portage, Ont. over a three-mile course with a turn for the championship of the world. Towns outclassed the Canadian. The result was a surprise, as Gaudaur seemed confident of victory ever since his opponent arrived from England, but in the race it was apparent from the start that Gaudaur had little or no chance to retain the championship. At the start Towns led off with thirty-two strokes to the minute and easily took the lead. He turned the buoy six seconds ahead of Gaudaur and finished quite fresh, five lengths ahead. Soon after the start Gaudaur overhauled his opponent, but could not pass him, and Towns easily got the lead again and kept it to the end. Gaudaur was prestly heavily backed by his friends, who never for a moment thought that he would be defeated.

The Australian while in training concelled his real powers as a sculler. He seldont rowed over 27 when in sight of Gaudaur or his friends, and whenever the Canadian pulled alongside of him in practice, invariably dropped to 24 or 25 strokes the minute.

The race was over a course that is one of the best in the world. Towns has a long of the stroke, with a rapid recovery, except for a momentary pause at the end of each stroke. His style is not unlike Hanian's when he was defeating all comers. The states were $600. Each man had $2,000 up on the result and Towns received $250 for expenses.
